Tandem Propellers.

Naval experts calculate that to attain a greater speed in ocean steamers, the propelling power must increase in the ratio of the cube of the velocity, a doubling of the speed requiring eight times the power, and there is some reason to think that while this cube ratio holds good for present maximum speeds, it would fall short before the doubling had been attained; that experiment would prove that eight-fold power would not give twice the twenty-two knots per hour attained by the Campania and Lucania.

This, too, would require the devotion of so much room to the purposes of boilers and machinery that it seems impossible that forty or fifty miles an hour on the ocean will ever be reached by this means. J. B. Jones, of Philadelphia, has evolved some new ideas in propellers which may be of service in attaining increased speed. His principal idea consists of two propellers revolving in different directions and at different rates of speed; and by this means the inventor claims that the "slip" which has always been experienced is entirely overcome.

This feature of his patent is an important one, but not more so than the gearing he has designed, by which the propeller blades revolve three times every time the shaft is revolved once, and this idea is carried out in the mounting of the two propellers, by which the difference of their relative speed is secured. In the trials made a few months ago on the Delaware River, the rear propeller was geared to turn two and a half times, while the other made three turns to the shaft's one. This trial was conducted under great difficulty; yet an increased speed was secured, but the engine on the boat was not of sufficient power to get satisfactory results from it. When the boat was taken out of the water it was found that increased speed had been attained, despite the fact that a great piece of rope had become twisted in the mechanism of the propellers, and was acting on them like a brake. The experimental boat was laid up for further improvements and the trial will be resumed this summer. Mr. Jones claims that with a 20 horse-power engine on the boat, he would have been able to make 25 miles an hour, instead of seven miles, which is all that could be gotten from her before applying the geared propeller.

Blood Diseases,

When the blood is diseased and the system Anæmic or Scrofulous, it carries sickness through the whole body, for the current of human life is in the blood. This proves how necessary it is to have pure rich blood, because an impoverished condition of it brings on Fevers, Malaria, Rheumatism, Bowel Complaints, Lung Scrofula, General Debility, etc.

Don't Make a Mistake!

The oldest, best and cheapest furniture store in the city was established by the veteran furniture dealer and undertaker, Mr. C. E. Williams, in 1859, and is now conducted by him and his oldest son Ed. A. Williams at 611 King St. We wish to notify our patrons and the public generally that we have no connection whatever with any other furniture and undertaking establishment in Honolulu.

THERE IS NO MISTAKE.

When people walk into the CITY FURNITURE STORE at the corner of Fort and Beretania streets and ask for Mr. H. H. Williams, they make no mistake.

They know where they can get the best value for their money and a good variety to select from.

C. E. WILLIAMS having sold his ENTIRE INTEREST in the Furniture and Undertaking Business to Mrs. Ed. A. Williams on the 17th day of June, A. D. 1895, and having left the country, his second son, HENRY H. WILLIAMS, now becomes the oldest experienced FURNITURE DEALER AND UNDERTAKER in Honolulu.

MR. H. H. WILLIAMS entered the employ of his father about twenty-five years ago, since which time he has made a continuous study of the Furniture and Undertaking Business. He graduated from Dr. S. Rodgers' Perfect Embalming School in 1890, since which time he has made a success of that branch of the business.

He does not advertise the oldest nor largest stock of Furniture in town, nor does he covet all the trade in town.

He only asks for his share, and from appearances he is getting it, consequently he is satisfied.

He receives new goods every month and fills order promptly.

WELL! WELL!! WELL!!!

Just Look at the Mistakes.

When people order by telephone of another Furniture Store and then walk into C. E. WILLIAMS & SONS Store and ask why the goods are not delivered on time they make a mistake. When a lady telephones to the store of C. E. Williams & Son to come and take back a piano that was sent to her by another furniture man she makes a mistake.

It is a Mistake to think that C. E. WILLIAMS has left the country without a return ticket.

It was a Mistake to try to stop him from going.

It is a Mistake to imagine that he will not return with a stock of goods, with prices that will make the public happy and paralyze some folks.

It is a Mistake if Clark's school of embalming from which Mr. ED. A. WILLIAMS graduated last year is not the best on Earth.

It is a Mistake if you think we do not covet all the trade in town; we do! We would like the Earth and Necker Island thrown in.

It is a Mistake if you think (all insinuations to the contrary) that we do not still remain, Yours as ever,
